

the Zebra Group

Our History...

Zebra Electronics was established in 1995 and was one of the first companies in the North East's Silicon Alley, which was and continues to be, a hub for progressive and pioneering Internet firms.

Domaincheck soon became the premier supplier of domain registration and Zebra Web Design led the way as one of the first web design agencies in Newcastle. Both of these companies are trading identities of Zebra Electronics and together they offer a truly integrated web service for businesses, charities and individuals. Many early Zebra clients remain with us today.

ZebraHosts was established in 2001 with services centred on the Newcastle data centre facility offering a competitive and crucially, local alternative to London and Manchester data centres. ZebraHosts uses knowledge and experience to maximise the benefits of colocation and offsite hosting to customers.

Since 2001, ZebraHosts has grown to provide IT Support, IT Consultancy and Business Continuity options together with its core range of data centre services. By expanding the number of services available, ZebraHosts is now equipped to provide a complete IT service leaving clients confident that everything from hosted servers to desktop PCs are in secure and capable hands.

As with Zebra Electronics, many early ZebraHosts clients continue to work with the company; this is a testament to the excellent working relationships that are forged with customers. As a company committed to PRINCE2 Project Management, ZebraHosts has worked to provide IT services for large international businesses and public sector bodies. The same high level project management principles are also utilised to meet the IT demands of many smaller organisations.

With an ethos focused on exceptional customer service and a willingness to work with clients, the Zebra Group today provisions many products and services without jeopardising on quality and expertise. Our success is the result of working as part of our customers' businesses; providing an holistic IT service or supporting the needs of an existing IT team.

Zebra Web Design

Zebra Web Design has a history of developing bespoke, high-quality online applications that can be accessed securely from anywhere with an Internet connection. Using these unique systems can give you an important edge over the competition as well as a truly interactive and manageable application.

Zebra Web Design has developed an easy to use Content Management System (CMS). Built in-house, the CMS makes it simple for customers to edit their websites without incurring any additional charges. From the Core CMS, Zebra also offers a wide variety of other web applications to make a website not only a location for informing your customers but also a location for interacting with your customers.

Zebra Web Design Pre-Built Software Includes:

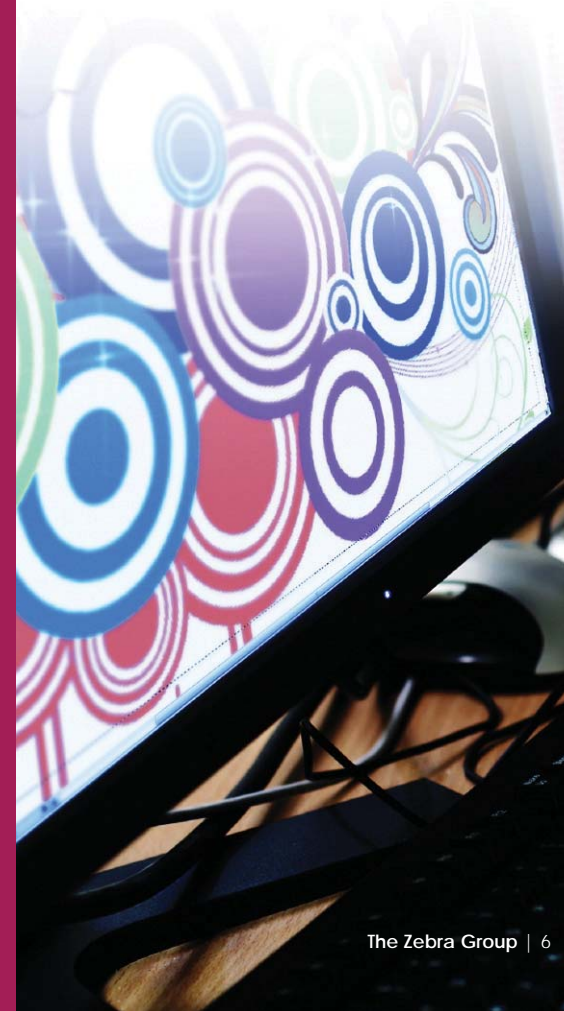

- E-Commerce Software
- Online Booking Software
- CRM Software
- Online Estate Agent and Car Dealer Software
- Job Board Software

Beyond the web design and development capabilities, Zebra Web Design advises and implements Search Engine Optimisation and E-Mail Marketing campaigns for organisations across the country. The design team can extend your look and feel beyond the website to create true brand identity. From business cards and stationary items to promotional print materials, the design team can offer your marketing important cohesion to reinforce your message. Providing these elements together, guarantees that your business benefits from a focussed service and united marketing direction.

WorkPlace Recovery

The latest component of The Zebra Group goes beyond IT and caters for wider business continuity requirements.

Business Continuity Consultancy

The Zebra Group is committed to furthering the support and advice available to public and private sector organisations looking to create more resilient business processes and effective emergency plans.

Business continuity is not just about protecting a business. It is now becoming a major selling point for businesses looking to win tenders and offer greater security to their clients. By addressing business continuity, WorkPlace Recovery improves the resiliency of your operations and helps your business meet the demands being placed by customers, staff, auditors and other stakeholders.

WorkPlace Recovery Services

All too often emphasis is placed upon the technical requirements for business continuity whilst the heart of a business, its staff, is sidelined. WorkPlace Recovery allows your business to keep your core team together and communicate easily when it is most crucial, by providing an accessible location for recovery in the event of an incident.

WorkPlace Recovery Suites include as standard:

- Desks and Chairs
- Telephone Systems
- Internet Connectivity
- Fax, Printing and Photocopying facilities

Additional provisioning for workplace recovery and business continuity can be made using ZebraHosts' Data centre and WorkPlace Recovery Suites, offering a bespoke service that meets the requirements of your business. Arrange your audit now by calling 0191 261 7555.
